AWAKENED CAMPUS GLOBAL

The global state of mind — mental or psychological health — is in urgent and indisputable need of transformation, according to the World Health Organization's 2022 worldwide report. Symptoms of hopelessness, depression, despair, addiction, suicide, and substance abuse are at alarming levels, and rising at alarming rates. In 2021, the United States Surgeon General issued a formal public health Advisory on this issue: generating awareness for the mental health crisis particularly among the population most vulnerable to severe suffering and disease, young adults and adolescents.

The Awakened Campus Global Conference convenes leading thinkers from universities around the world to speak on the discovery and application of a scientific, evidence-based solution — one that is equivalent to the world's leading vaccine and offers the highest levels of prevention and protection against onset and development of severe disease. The administration of the “shot” for this “vaccine” against psychological disease comes from inside the pre-existing resources of the human mind and body — a prior spirituality — the innate, inborn capacity to participate in and awaken to a transcendent relationship with a higher power (however one calls the ultimate loving, guiding life force).

Demonstrated across multiple levels of analysis (MRI, genotyping, epidemiology) and leading peer-reviewed published studies, Awakened Awareness to our natural, innate spirituality is not only robustly protective against disease, but central to our human nature for optimum thriving and wholeness.

THANK YOU TO OUR PARTNERS, SPONSORS, HOSTS, AND AFFILIATES

AWAKENED CAMPUS GLOBAL

The aim of the Awakened Campus Global Conference is to create a collaborative global network of higher education institutions to integrate spirituality in their activities. The overall goal is to help the formation of spiritual awareness of students, faculty and university leaders through support of spirituality in the student faculty and student advisor relationship, campus culture, mission, shared relational values, residential programs, and range of pedagogy.

The Awakened Campus Global Conference mainly but not exclusively focuses on teachers education, medical education, and business education. So we are looking to establish partnerships with teachers colleges, medical schools, and business schools as well as with alternative institutions of higher learning.

Invited speakers from USA, Europe, and India will present their experience and best practices in integrating spirituality in higher education and help to co-create projects with participating institutions in curriculum, research, and extra-curriculum development areas, and facilitate the collaboration of faculty and university leaders to promote spiritual awareness in higher education and professional practices.

DR. HITENDRA WADHWA

Author of “Inner Mastery, Outer Impact: How Your Five Core Energies Hold the Key to Success”. His mission is to discover, codify and teach the laws of success in life and leadership. With an MBA and PhD from MIT’s Sloan School of Management and a lifelong study of the world’s mystic traditions, Wadhwa brings a mathematician’s rigor and a truth-seeker’s spirit to some of today’s most vexing questions about authenticity, success, leadership, and human potential.

As Professor at Columbia Business School and Founder of the Mentora Institute, Hitendra has coached dozens of Fortune 100 C-suite executives and taught more than ten thousand MBAs, executives, doctors, lawyers, social activists and educators. His class on Personal Leadership & Success is one of the most popular at Columbia Business School, for which he has won the Dean’s Award for Teaching Excellence.

Hitendra’s work has been covered by leading media including Fortune, Forbes, Financial Times, Wall Street Journal, CNN and more. Hitendra’s lessons, says the BBC World Service, “are about how to become a master of yourself before trying to be a master of the universe.” Psychology Today states, “The award-winning professor promises not how to make a living, but how to live.”

Wadhwa’s Mentora Institute is at the forefront of creating a simple, inspiring and personalized approach to developing leaders. His clients include Accenture, Chevron, Ericsson, Kraft Heinz, Lululemon, Morgan Stanley, New York Times, SAP, the Tata Group and United Health Group. His nonprofit Mentora Foundation is developing a fellowship of global changemakers who are committed to building a principled world by strengthening the moral, mental and social fibers in their families, organizations, communities, and nations, starting with their own selves.
